KILLIK & CO. SELECT INTELLIFLO'S INTELLIGENT OFFICE

IntelliFlo is delighted to announce that Killik & Co, one of the UK's leading independent wealth management firms, has appointed IntelliFlo to provide fully integrated back-office technology to its team of financial advisors. Following a thorough review of software suppliers, Killik & Co selected IntelliFlo's Intelligent Office as the most comprehensive and effective package in the market place.

Killik & Co the financial planning, investment management and advisory stock broking firm prides itself in being able to deal in almost any security listed on almost all of the world's markets. In light of current market conditions and an environment of increasing regulatory and compliance burdens, Killik & Co, has adopted Intelligent Office to ensure that all of its financial advisers use the best available technology to maximise their business efficiency.

Malcolm Cuthbert, Partner, Killik & Co stated, "We chose IntelliFlo as we believe that the Intelligent Office solution is the most appropriate and useful tool for our growing team of financial advisers. Killik & Co prides itself on offering investors relationship-based advice, enabling the adviser to pinpoint the exact products that will give the most benefit to the end investor. Using technology will free up time, allowing our advisers to focus on important client-facing work rather than being hampered by the growing administrative process."

IntelliFlo's Chief Executive Nick Eatock commented, "We are delighted to be working with Killik & Co and are very pleased to add another strong and reputable firm to our client list. Following a very successful 2009, this latest new business win is a fantastic way to start the New Year and we very much look forward to working with them."
