

Suitability Report

threesixty

Intelligent Office can be configured to supply template Suitability Reports written and maintain by threesixty, a nationally recognised provider of compliance and technical support to intermediaries.

threesixty's template Suitability Reports are used extensively by thousands of intermediaries already, many of whom have had their reports scrutinized during FSA visits.

threesixty now bring this experience and expertise to Intelligent Office users.

Reports can be generated directly from each client, pre-populating key information about the client and relevant policy details.

Each report contains product specific content which is regularly reviewed and updated to reflect regulatory and legislative changes.

Investments, pensions, protection and mortgages are all covered. Multiple products can be included in one single report.

Intelligent Office automatically identifies many of the relevant paragraphs based on the client's policy holdings so the user is not presented with a long list of options, just a compliant report ready for tweaking. The reports are brief, simple and easy to read, designed to summarise the recommendations made. They are not complex, weighty documents.

Testimonials

Sense Network Chief Executive, Tim Newman, said "threesixty's reputation is such that you expect the reports to be compliant, but we have been impressed with how usable they are with clients. Where we have fed back minor suggestions for improvement, threesixty have been able to make adjustments very quickly. The reports save a lot of time for everyone involved."
